Preface

Respected Readers,

By the order of his śikṣā-guru, Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja, Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Nārāyaṇa Gosvāmī Mahārāja traveled twice around the world each year, preaching the message of Kṛṣṇa consciousness and pure love.

In early December of 2002, he began his preaching tour in Murwillumbah, Australia. On the last day of his stay there, he requested that the lectures he had given on the subject of guru-tattva be published as a booklet. A month later, in mid-January of 2003 in Hilo, Hawaii, he gave two more lectures on the same topic, and requested that they be added to the booklet.

While in Hilo, Śrīla Nārāyaṇa Gosvāmī Mahārāja, our Śrīla Gurudeva, addressed the doubt regarding the necessity of receiving dīkṣā-mantras from the bona fide guru. The transcription of that discourse is presented as the last chapter of this booklet.

We offer unlimited obeisances and gratitude to our most worshipable Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja, renowned throughout the world as Śrīla Prabhupāda, for first manifesting Kṛṣṇa consciousness in the Western world. He has also manifested the Sanskrit verses, English translations, our previous ācāryas' commentaries, and his own Bhaktivedānta purports, to Vedic literatures like Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam and Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta. By his mercy, therefore, we were able to reference all the scriptural quotes given in Śrīla Gurudeva's lectures.

Moreover, besides Śrīla Svāmī Mahārāja's giving the Vedic scriptures and their deep meanings to the English-speaking world and also arranging for their translation in over fifty foreign languages, he is a personification of those ancient texts. Śrī guru is the embodiment of all the scriptures. Before leaving the vision of this world in 1977, he requested our Śrīla Gurudeva, his intimate friend and śikṣā disciple, to continue his mission.

Aspiring for the service of Śrī Hari, Guru and Vaiṣṇava,

The Editors

Guru-devatātmā

More Intimate Than Our Soul

I offer millions of obeisances unto the lotus feet of my spiritual master, nitya-līlā-praviṣṭa om viṣṇupāda Śrī Śrīmad Bhakti Prajñāna Keśava Gosvāmī Mahārāja, and the same to my śikṣā-guru, nitya-līlā-praviṣṭa om viṣṇupāda Śrī Śrīmad Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja.

I remember a verse of Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam that was spoken by Śrī Nārada Ṛṣi to Vasudeva, the father of Kṛṣṇa. This verse was then re-told by Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī to Parīkṣit Mahārāja, who was cursed to die by the bite of a snake-bird after seven days:

īśād apetasya viparyayo 'smṛtiḥ
tan-māyayāto budha ābhajet taṁ
bhaktyaikayeśaṁ guru-devatātmā*

Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (11.2.37)

[Fear arises when a living entity misidentifies himself as the material body because of absorption in the external, illusory energy of the Lord, called māyā. When the living entity thus turns away from the Supreme Lord, he also forgets his own constitutional position as a servant of the Lord. Therefore, an intelligent person should engage unflinchingly in the unalloyed devotional service of the Lord, under the guidance of a bona fide spiritual master, whom he should accept as his worshipable deity and as his very life and soul. 1]*

What are the causes of fear? Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī has explained this. We all have fear. Everyone, in all species of life and throughout all the material universes, wants peace of mind and happiness. However, everyone is full of fear.

Happiness and peace in life follow us like shadows. If we want to take these shadows within our grasp, we will find them to be intangible; that is, with no substance. On the other hand, when we proceed forward, turning away from our shadow, that shadow will follow us. This is the nature of shadows.

What is māyā? Māyā, the deluding potency of the Lord, in the form of economic development, sense gratification, and impersonal liberation, is like a shadow. When we turn to her and try to enjoy sense gratification, we find that sense gratification has no substance. In other words, the desire for material happiness becomes the cause of pain and grief. There is no happiness in the material world, only distress and suffering; and this suffering is experienced as the endless chain of birth and death. On the other hand, if we progress towards Kṛṣṇa, all material facilities and liberation will follow us.

1 “This is a quotation from Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (11.2.37). It is an instruction given by Kavi Ṛṣi, one of the nine saintly personalities called the nine Yogendras. When Vasudeva, Kṛṣṇa’s father, asked Devarṣi Nārada, in Dvārakā about devotional service, it was mentioned that King Nimi, who was the King of Videha, was instructed by the nine Yogendras. When Śrī Nārada Muni discoursed on bhāgavata-dharma, devotional service, he indicated how a conditioned soul can be liberated by engaging in the loving transcendental service of the Lord” (Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, Madhya-līlā 20.119, purport by Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja).

We are all parts and parcels of the Supreme Lord, Kṛṣṇa, and He is an ocean of ānanda, unlimited happiness and peace. He is the reservoir of pure ānanda and, in fact, He Himself is ānanda. Because we are His parts and parcels, by our constitutional position and nature, our transcendental bodies are also made of pure ānanda. However, this refers only to our transcendental body and not our material body.

Somehow we have turned away from the Supreme Lord, the ocean of rasa (transcendental taste) and ānanda, and now we are entangled in the deluding potency called māyā. Mā-yā. We are seeing that which is not actually a fact to be a fact. Whatever we see or feel by our sensory perception is māyā. When we first departed from Kṛṣṇa, when we first forgot Him, māyā came at once and attacked us. She defeated us and put us in her jail. What is that jail? It is this body and mind. Actually there are two jails, one within the other. The gross body is the outer jail and the subtle body is the inner jail. We have been suffering and fearing since time immemorial.

Parīkṣit Mahārāja asked Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī, “How can we come out of this endless chain of birth and death? How can we get free from māyā?” Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī replied, “Tan-māyayāto budha ābhajet taṁ, bhaktyaikayeśaṁ guru-devatātmā.”

Being deeply immersed in māyā, we cannot become free from māyā at once and go to the spiritual realm of Goloka Vṛndāvana. This is possible only by the help of Vaiṣṇavas, pure devotees. By the association of Vaiṣṇavas we can have a very pure, bone fide guru – not an imitation guru but a sad-guru, or self-realized guru. If we take shelter of his lotus feet, he will take full charge of our lives. He will take responsibility for our lives and teach us how to perform devotional service to Kṛṣṇa.

Guru-devatātmā. First, we must think that guru is our ātmā, our life and soul. Being totally surrendered to him, we must depend solely on him. Tan ābhajet. Tan refers to the Supreme Lord, Kṛṣṇa. If we serve Kṛṣṇa under the guidance of a sad-guru, then certainly, like magic, we will be out of māyā. We will see that our transcendental form has manifested; that we are serving Kṛṣṇa in our transcendental bodies and bathing in the endless ocean of ānanda and rasa. At that time, we will also be embodiments of ānanda, and we will simultaneously be the enjoyers of ānanda by serving.

Try to realize all these facts. It is not sufficient to simply hear about this and tell others. We will have to be established in these truths. We are in deep māyā, and to the extent that we are in māyā, we are that far away from Kṛṣṇa. Our only hope is that Kṛṣṇa has mercifully sent sad-gurus and Vaiṣṇavas to this world. I realize this. I was a third-class, bogus person, but my gurudeva picked me up and engaged me in this transcendental service.

Bestowing the happiness of direct service to the Divine Couple Śrī Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa is the mission of ancient scriptures like Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, and great spiritual masters like Śrī Nārada Ṛṣi, Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī, Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu, our guru-varga (disciplic succession), and especially in Western countries, parama-pujyapāda Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja, who ordered me to also preach it.

I request you all to understand these eternal truths and be established in them, and to also preach this mission of the succession of spiritual masters, our guru-paramparā, to others. If you are practicing but not preaching, you are selfish. Don't be weak. Preach.

It is stated in Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (10.14.3): “Sthāne sthitāḥ śruti-gatāḥ tanu-vān-manobhir.” If you are wearing the saffron cloth of a renunciate (brahmacārī or sannyāsī), do not marry and do not fall down. If you are gṛhastha (a householder), then remain gṛhastha. But after fifty years old, try to come out of gṛhastha life. Do not engage your whole life in the gṛhastha āśrama. If you can be a gṛhastha like Prahāda Mahārāja or the Pāṇḍavas, that is fine; but that is very rare.

Today Is Guru Day

Śrīla Gurudeva: What is the meaning of the verse I spoke about in this morning's class?

*bhayaṁ dvitīyābbhiniveśataḥ syād
īśād apetasya viparyayo 'smṛtiḥ
tan-māyayāto budha ābhajet taṁ
bhaktyaikayeśaṁ guru-devatātmā*

Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (11.2.37)

What is the meaning of the last line of this verse?

Śrīpāda Padmanābha Mahārāja: In this verse, it has been said that one must accept śrī gurudeva, who is the non-different manifestation of the Supreme Lord within this world (sākṣāt-hari), and who is coming as an emissary of the Supreme Lord to rescue the conditioned souls. Kṛṣṇa-kṛpā śrī mūrti, the very personification of the mercy of Kṛṣṇa, is coming to the conditioned soul to bring him back to the lotus feet of Kṛṣṇa.

How should that soul, who is aspiring for freedom, receive this pure representative of Kṛṣṇa? He should receive him as his most worshipable lord, just as one would worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Himself. Bhaktyaikayeśam guru-devatātmā means that he will have one-pointed bhakti – one-pointed faith and devotion – to the lotus feet of his guru. If he develops this one-pointed devotion, he will also consider that śrī guru is dearer to him than his own life.

By the mercy of śrī guru, Bhagavān gives His mercy. “Yasyā prasādān na gatiḥ kuto 'pi – without the mercy of the representative of the Supreme Lord, it is actually not possible to attain His lotus feet.” If sad-guru is not pleased, the conditioned soul remains within this world.

Śrīla Gurudeva: This is a very good explanation. We should try not only to speak, but also to follow. If a devotee is doing a great deal of chanting, reading, and glorifying Śrī Kṛṣṇa, but he is not following his gurudeva, what will be the result?

Prema-prayojana dasa: Śrīla Gurudeva is raising the point that if a disciple is carefully engaged in regulative devotional practices (sādhana) but he has no faith in guru, what will be the result? It will be zero. This has been described in many places in śāstra. Kṛṣṇa Himself has said in the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (11.19.21): “Mad-bhakta-pūjābhynchikā – the worship of My devotees is better than worship of Me.” He also says, “That person who says he is My devotee but who is not devoted to My devotee, is not My devotee at all.” Kṛṣṇa rejects that person:

yāha bhāgavata paḍa vaiṣṇavera sthāne ekānta āśraya kara caitanya-carāṇe

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Antya-līlā 5.131)

[If you want to understand Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, you must approach a paramahaṁsa Vaiṣṇava who is exclusively surrendered at the lotus feet of Śrī Caitanyacandra. The sole asset of such Vaiṣṇavas is the import of the Bhāgavatam as presented by Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu.]

naṣṭa-prāyeṣv abhadreṣu nityam bhāgavata-sevayā bhagavaty uttama-śloke bhaktir bhavati naiṣṭhikī

Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (1.2.18)

[By regular attendance in classes on the Bhāgavatam and by rendering service to the pure devotee, all that is troublesome to the heart is almost completely destroyed, and loving service unto the Personality of Godhead, who is praised with transcendental songs, is established as an irrevocable fact.]*

If one wants to be free of all the anarthas covering his transcendental knowledge, then nityam bhāgavata-sevayā:

eka bhāgavata baḍa—bhāgavata-śāstra āra bhāgavata—bhakta bhakti-rasa-pātra

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 1.99)

[One of the bhāgavatas is the great scripture Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, and the other is the pure devotee absorbed in the mellows of loving devotion.]*

dui bhāgavata dvārā diyā bhakti-rasa tānhāra hṛdaye tānra preme haya vaśa

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 1.100)

Only by the combined actions of the book bhāgavata (scripture) and the pure devotee bhāgavata, do the mellows of bhakti-rasa enter someone's heart.

nikuñja-yūno rati-keli-siddhyai yā yālibhir yuktir apekṣaṇīyā tatrāti-dāksyād ati-vallabhasya vande guroḥ śrī-caraṇāravindam

Gurvaṣṭakam (6)

[Śrī gurudeva is always present with the sakhīs, planning the arrangements for the perfection of Yūgala-kīśora's amorous pastimes (rati-keli) within the kuñjas of Vṛndāvana. Because he is so expert in making these tasteful arrangements for Their pleasure, he is very dear to Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa. I offer prayers unto his lotus feet.]

Kṛṣṇa is always feeling separation from Rādhika, and Rādhika is always feeling separation from Kṛṣṇa. How indebted They are to that personality who is so expert at bringing Them together. Even an ordinary conditioned soul in this world gives his life and surrenders at the lotus feet of that person who is very dear.

What to speak of that devotee who fulfills the innermost heart's desire of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa, he will automatically become dear to Them. And if one surrenders to that pure devotee's lotus feet, then through that pure Vaiṣṇava, Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa will shower Their mercy and quickly bring him to Their lotus feet.

Śrīla Narottama dāsa Ṭhākura has given this instruction in his song Śrī Guru-caraṇa-padma: “Guru-mukha-padma-vākya, cittete kariyā aikya, āra nā kariha mane āśā.” Here is the meaning of the words guru-devatātmā – one should make his heart one with the words emanating from the lotus mouth of a sad-guru. “Śrī-guru-caraṇe rati, ei se uttama gati, je prasāde pure sarva āśā.” By having rati, spontaneous attachment of the heart, for the lotus feet of his guru, a disciple will attain his goal. Without the mercy of guru, no sādhana has any strength or power at all. Therefore, the first limb of bhakti out of sixty-four is guru-pādāśraya (taking shelter of the lotus feet of śrī guru):

guru-pādāśraya, dīkṣā, gurura sevana

sad-dharma-śikṣā-ṛcchā, sādhu-mārgānugamana

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Madhya-līlā 22.115)

[On the path of regulative devotional service, one must observe the following items: (1) One must accept a bona fide spiritual master; (2) One must accept initiation from him; (3) One must serve him; (4) One must receive instructions from the spiritual master and make inquiries in order to learn devotional service; (5) One must follow in the footsteps of the previous ācāryas and follow the directions given by the spiritual master.]*

Śrīla Gurudeva: Have you heard of Upamanyu? His guru once asked him, “Oh, you go out to graze cows all day and do not bring with you anything to eat, and yet you are very healthy and fat. Why is that? Do you drink milk from the cows’ udders?” Upamanyu replied, “Yes I do.” His guru told him, “Don’t drink it anymore,” but he did not tell him what he would be allowed to eat or drink.

During the next days, Upamanyu continued to go out. After some days his guru said, “You still look very fat. Are you drinking milk? What are you doing?” Upamanyu told him, “I am only eating the foam that accumulates on the mouth of the cows – nothing else.” His guru then asked him, “Have I told you to eat that? Don’t eat it.” Then, without Upamanyu asking what to eat and without his gurudeva telling him what he would be allowed to eat, his gurudeva went away. His gurudeva was not actually displeased with him. He was only acting displeased in order to test his disciple’s obedience.

On the next day the cows returned without Upamanyu, and his guru went out in search for him. He called out, “Upamanyu, where are you? Where are you?” He heard a sound from the well, and that sound was the voice of Upamanyu calling, “Gurudeva, I am here in this well.” Gurudeva asked, “What are you doing in there?” Upamanyu replied, “Gurudeva, you told me not to take milk or foam. I became so hungry that I drank the milk of a leaf of an ekwan plant, and then I discovered that it was poisonous. By drinking it, I became totally blind.” Now showing his pleasure, Upamanyu’s guru said, “You have followed my instructions!” He took him out of the well and blessed him by saying, “All the knowledge of the Vedas will now enter your heart.” Then, at once, all the scriptures, like the Śrutis, Vedas, and Upaniṣads, and all varieties of knowledge were inspired in his heart.

In the history of Aruṇi, and also in the history of Sudāmā and Kṛṣṇa, we find similar miraculous results as the fruit of surrender to śrī gurudeva. There is no possibility of attaining bhakti if we do not totally follow our gurudeva.

Today, the day that begins our preaching tour, is like “Guru Day.”

What If a Guru Is Not Pure?

tasmād gurum praṇadyeta

jijñāsuḥ śreya uttamam

śābde pare ca niṣṇātām

brahmany upaśamāśrayam

Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (11.3.21)

[Any person who is seriously desirous of achieving real happiness must seek a bona fide spiritual master and take shelter of him by initiation. The qualification of a spiritual master is that he must have realized the conclusion of the scriptures by deliberation and arguments and thus be able to convince others of these conclusions. Such great personalities, who have taken complete shelter of the Supreme Godhead, leaving aside all material considerations, are to be understood as bona fide spiritual masters.]*

Suppose a person unfortunately took initiation from an unqualified guru, who was not at the stage of a mahā-bhāgavata

(a fully self-realized soul). That is, that guru was not realized in the established truths. The word śabde refers to śāstras like the Vedas, Upaniṣads, and so on. It also means the holy name. Pare means the Supreme Lord Kṛṣṇa. That guru had no realization of Kṛṣṇa, or His names, or His glories as told in śāstra. He was only at the level of kaniṣṭha-adbhikārī, but still he thought himself guru. He had many worldly desires, such as the desire for name, fame, and wealth, and someone unfortunately took harināma and *dikṣā*² from him.

Do the verses that glorify the qualifications of guru apply to that guru or not? Should the disciple obey that guru with the attitude of surrender as ordered by all the śāstras? Should he follow that guru totally, or not? Can a person acquire pure cowmilk from a male donkey? Can a person get sweet mangos from a thorn tree? What is the disciple's duty towards that kind of guru?

We must consider that the presence of uttama-adbhikārīs (those approaching prema-bhakti or those already relishing prema-bhakti), madhyama-uttama-adbhikārīs (those approaching the stage of bhava), and even madhyama-madhyama-adbhikārīs (those at the stage of asakti) are very rare in this world. It is very rare, therefore, to have a guru of this caliber.

2 “That religious undertaking which bestows divya-jñāna, or transcendental knowledge, and destroys pāpa (sin), pāpa-bīja (the seed of sin), and avidyā (ignorance) to the root is called dikṣā by learned authorities in the absolute truth” (Hari-bhakti-vilāsa 2.9). Dī means transcendental realization of one's relationship with Kṛṣṇa, and kṣā means destruction of the above-mentioned obstacles. Therefore, unless one receives initiation from a mahā-bhāgavata devotee, he is not receiving dikṣā in the real sense.

What should we do under these circumstances? We will have to take a guru. If a guru is not śābde pare ca niṣṇātam, if he has not realized the established truths delineated in the Vedas, Upaniṣads, and other śāstras, but he has very strong faith in his pure guru and is sincerely following him, then, even if he is a madhyama-adhikārī, do not reject him. If he is always serving his own mahā-bhāgavata guru and is obedient both internally and externally, then do not reject him. We can give up our guru only with the consideration given by Śrīla Sanātana Gosvāmī in his Hari-bhakti-vilāsa:

avaiṣṇava-mukhbodgīrṇam
pūtam hari-kathāmṛtam śravaṇam naiva kartavyam sarpocchiṣṭam yathā payaḥ

[The nectarean topics of Śrī Hari are always purifying, but if they emanate from the mouth of a non-Vaiṣṇava, it is prohibited to hear them, for they become as poisonous as the milk touched by the lips of a serpent.]

If a guru is not serving his own gurudeva, if he has left the process given by him, and his guru is not satisfied by his behavior – only in that case can we reject him. On the other hand, if the guru is a madhyama-adhikārī and sincere, if he is very obedient and following in the footsteps of his guru, then he will gradually become uttama-adhikārī. So we should not reject him. At the same time, if he is not perfect and thus cannot remove all our doubts about Kṛṣṇa consciousness, what should we do?

We should offer praṇāma to him and ask his permission to have the association of a mahā-bhāgavata devotee: A disciple may ask, “May I go to Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī?” or “May I go to Śrīla Rūpa Gosvāmī?” or, “May I go to a high class of Vaiṣṇava?” If the guru says, “No, you cannot go,” then give him up.³ However, if he says, “Certainly you can go, and I will also come,” then he is a real guru.

A guru who sends his disciple to a superior guru for instruction may also be an uttama-mahā-bhāgavata, as there are various stages of uttama-mahā-bhāgavata, and that guru is certainly not to be rejected. Śrīla Narottama dāsa Ṭhākura was a disciple of Śrīla Lokanātha Gosvāmī, but he took permission from him to take shelter of Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī, and Śrīla Śyāmānanda Prabhu took permission from Śrī Hṛdaya-caitanya for that same shelter of Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī.

There are three levels of devotees who can act as sad-guru, and they are: (1) bhagavat-pārṣada-deba-prāpta, (2) nirdhūta-kāśayā, and (3) mūrccita kāśayā.⁴

3 Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī has stated in his Bhakti-sandarbha (Annucheda 238): “A guru who is envious of pure devotees, who blasphemes them, or behaves maliciously towards them, should certainly be abandoned, remembering the verse “guror api avaliptasya”. Such an envious guru lacks the mood and character of a Vaiṣṇava. The śāstras enjoin that one should not accept initiation from a non-devotee. Knowing these injunctions of the scriptures, a sincere devotee abandons a false guru who is envious of devotees. After leaving one who lacks the true qualities of a guru, if a devotee is without a spiritual guide, his only hope is to seek out a mahā-bhāgavata Vaiṣṇava and serve him. By constantly rendering service to such a pure devotee, one will certainly attain the highest goal of life.”

4 “Bhagavat-pārṣada-deba-prāpta – After giving up the gross material body, those who have perfected themselves through the practice of bhakti obtain sac-cid-ānanda spiritual forms which are just suitable for the service of the Lord as associates (pārśadas). Such persons are the best of all uttama-bhāgavatas. (Continued on the next page.)

This human life is very rare, so do not waste your time. Try to follow all these principles, and gradually you will develop your Kṛṣṇa consciousness.

Even Kṛṣṇa Accepted a Guru

Everywhere in Vedānta, in the Upaniṣads, and especially in Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, sad-guru has been glorified. It is true that the holy name is transcendental. It is written in śāstra, and we hear from so many persons, that we should chant harināma. But someone may say, “I have read here and there that we should chant harināma; so I am chanting. What, then, is the need of a guru, who is like an agent, a broker, or a mediator? Ajāmila easily went to Vaikuṅṭha, the Lord’s transcendental abode of opulence, without knowing the glories of harināma in the beginning. This demonstrates that anyone can chant harināma even without accepting a guru.”

“Nirdbūta-kāśayā – Those who, although still residing within the gross material body made of five elements, have no trace of material desire (vāsanā) or any material impressions (saṁskāras) within their hearts are called nirdbūta-kāśayā (who have thrown off all material impurities). They belong to the intermediate class of uttama-bhāgavatas.

“Mūrcchita-kāśayā – Those pursuing the path of bhakti in whose hearts there remains a trace of desire (vāsanā) and impressions (saṁskāras), based on the material mode of goodness, are known as mūrcchita-kāśayā. Due to influence of their bhakti-yoga, these vāsanās and saṁskāras remain in a dormant or unconscious state. As soon as there is a favorable opportunity, their worshipful object, Śrī Bhagavān, somehow causes their desire to be consumed and attracts them to His lotus feet. Such elevated souls belong to the preliminary (kaniṣṭha) stage of uttama-bhāgavatas” (Śrī Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu).

If one is chanting without the guidance of a guru, what will be the result? Such a person can only chant aparādha (offenses to the name), except in a rare case, such as in the case of Ajāmila. It is stated in Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Madhya-līlā 19.151):

guru-kṛṣṇa-prasāde pāya bhakti-latā-bīja*

[According to their karma, all living entities are wandering throughout the entire universe. Some of them are being elevated to the upper planetary systems, and some are going down into the lower planetary systems. Out of many millions of wandering living entities, one who is very fortunate gets an opportunity to associate with a bona fide spiritual master by the grace of Kṛṣṇa. By the mercy of both Kṛṣṇa and the spiritual master, such a person receives the seed of the creeper of devotional service.]*

Bhakti develops from the seed of bhakti given by guru-rupī-kṛṣṇa, Kṛṣṇa in the form of guru. Kṛṣṇa does not directly give that seed to anyone. He either gives it through śrī guru, or He Himself becomes guru and then gives it.

Without accepting guru, the name one chants is not transcendental. That name will fulfill your worldly desires, even up to mukti (liberation), but not more than this.

Ajāmila had no guru at first. He named his son Nārāyaṇa, one of the Lord's names, at the nāma-saṁskāra, the ritualistic ceremony in which babies are given their name. By chance, because he lived in the Vedic culture, he named his son Nārāyaṇa, and by his recitation of that name he began chanting nāma-ābhāsa (the clearing stage of chanting). That was his first chanting of nāma-ābhāsa, and after that he would daily call out, “O Nārāyaṇa, come on, come on!” By continually doing this, his nāma-ābhāsa continued.

Later, when Ajāmila was dying, he saw the ferocious forms of the Yamadūtas, the constables of the god of death. Being very fearful, the name of his son automatically came to his throat and he called out, “Nārāyaṇa!” At that time, at the moment of death, the Supreme Lord Nārāyaṇa sent His four messengers, the Viṣṇudūtas, and Ajāmila heard their dialogue as they drove out the Yamadūtas. He heard the holy name and glorification of the name of Nārāyaṇa from the Viṣṇudūtas, and thus he received the seed of śuddha-nāma (the pure name) from them. By this, he received the seed of bhakti, his life returned, and he thought, “The holy name that I heard from the four Viṣṇudūtas is so powerful! And the glory of that name is so wonderful! Now that I have received this mantra, I must give up this wife, that wife, all my children, and all my possessions.” He left everything and went to Haridwar, where he bathed in the Ganges, sat down on the bank, and began chanting. Eventually, he began to chant śuddha-nāma.

After some time, the Viṣṇudūtas again came to Ajāmila, and this time they said, “Come with us and sit in this chariot-airplane.” By now Ajāmila had reached the stages of bhava, and then prema. By continuously chanting, “Om namo nārāyaṇāya,” he attained vaikuṅṭha-rati. His rati (prema) was not vṛndāvana-rati, not mādhurya-mayi prema (loving Godhead with intimacy), but rather it was aiśvarya-mayi prema (love of Godhead in awe and reverence, with knowledge of His opulence).

Ajāmila told the Viṣṇudūtas, “When you drove away the Yamadūtas, I wanted to speak with you and touch your feet, but you disappeared. Now you have appeared again and you are telling me to go with you. How did this come to be?”

The Viṣṇudūtas replied, “We gave you the seed of the pure name and we gave you the seed of bhakti-latā (the creeper of devotion). By chanting and regularly bathing in the Ganges, you are now purified. You have attained vaikuṅṭha-rati and are qualified to come to Vaikuṅṭha.” Then, they took him there.

By the time the Viṣṇudūtas appeared to Ajāmila for the second time, he had become totally free from all material desires. In the case of Dhruva Mahārāja, however, although he was a disciple of Nārada, he still had a slight attachment to his mother. It was for this reason that he could not go to the Vaikuṅṭha planet situated beyond the sum total of all the material universes, called mahat-tattva. Rather, he went to Dhruvaloka, a spiritual planet situated within this universe.

Vālmīki Ṛṣi was also a disciple of Nārada. Prior to meeting Nārada, he had been a dacoit. He had killed millions of brāhmaṇas (the learned, priestly class) and tapasvīs (ascetics), and had stolen their wealth. When Nārada Ṛṣi met him, he preached to him about the glories of Bhagavān, the Supreme Lord, and at last he said, “You should sit here. I am giving you the seed of the pure name. Chant ‘Rāma’.” However, Vālmīki was not qualified to chant the name of Rāma. Understanding this, Nārada told him, “If you cannot chant the name of Rāma, then chant ‘Ma-ra, ma-ra, ma-ra (death, death, death).” Vālmīki replied, “Oh, I can do that,” and he began chanting, “Mara, mara.” Since he was a disciple of Nārada, he was able to get such a concession.

What became of Vālmīki? After many thousands of years, his chanting of mara turned into Rāma, and then he became qualified to write rāma-līlā, the pastimes of the Supreme Personality of Godhead in His form of Rāma. He saw that līlā in his samādhi trance; and thus, as Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam was written by Śrī Vyāsadeva in samādhi-bhāṣya, trance language, in the same way Rāmāyaṇa was written by Śrī Vālmīki. Vālmīki saw everything about rāma-līlā in his trance even before Rāma had actually exhibited His pastimes in this world. In this way, he wrote down those pastimes in his Śrī Vālmīki Rāmāyaṇa.

We should understand that without guru, we are bound to have material attachments and we are bound to commit offenses to the holy name (nāma-aparādha). If the seed of bhakti and one’s relationship with Kṛṣṇa (sambandha-jñāna) are not given by a pure guru, there can be no śabda-brahma, experience of transcendental sound. Acceptance and surrender to a sad-guru is essential.

Although Kṛṣṇa is the Supreme Personality of Godhead, He also accepted a guru. The gopīs once teased Him by saying, “You have no guru?” Kṛṣṇa replied, “Who has said this? My gurudeva is Bhāguri Ṛṣi.”

It is generally accepted that Kṛṣṇa’s guru was Sāndīpani Muni, but actually Sāndīpani Muni was like a teacher. He taught Kṛṣṇa the sixty-four arts, and therefore he was like a schoolteacher.

Kṛṣṇa received rādhā-mantra from Bhāguri Ṛṣi, and therefore it is Bhāguri Ṛṣi who is actually His guru.

In this world, when Kṛṣṇa or any of His incarnations descend, they accept a guru. Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu, who is Kṛṣṇa Himself, also accepted a guru. He accepted harināma and gopāla-mantra from Īśvara Purīpāda, and He Himself said to Prakāśānanda Sarasvatī when asked by him why He engaged in harināma-saṅkīrtana instead of studying Vedānta:

prabhu kabe—śuna, śrīpāda, ihāra kāraṇa guru more mūrkhā dekhi’ karila śāsana

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 7.71)

[Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu replied to Prakāśānanda Sarasvatī, “My dear sir, kindly hear the reason. My spiritual master considered Me a fool, and therefore he chastised Me.”]*

mūrkhā tumi, tomāra nābhika vedāntādhikāra ‘kṛṣṇa-mantra’ japa sadā,—ei mantra-sāra

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 7.72)

Caitanya Mahāprabhu quoted his spiritual master as saying, “You have no qualification to enter Vedānta philosophy. You are foolish and ignorant, and You should therefore simply chant harināma.”

harer nāma harer nāma harer nāmaiva kevalam kalau nāsty eva nāsty eva nāsty eva gatir anyathā

Bṛhan-nāradya Purāṇa (38.126)

[To attain one's spiritual goal in Kali-yuga, there is no other way, there is no other way, there is no other way than to chant the holy name, chant the holy name, chant the holy name.]

His gurudeva gave Him this mantra:

hare kṛṣṇa hare kṛṣṇa, kṛṣṇa kṛṣṇa hare hare hare rāma hare rāma, rāma rāma hare hare

Why did Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Mahāprabhu not utter the name of His sannyāsa-guru, Keśava Bhārati? After all, acceptance of sannyāsa, the renounced order of life, is not a small thing. It is not less than harināma or dikṣā initiation. The reason is that Caitanya Mahāprabhu had first spoken the sannyāsa-mantra into the ear of Keśava Bhārati, and after that Śrī Keśava Bhārati spoke it into Mahāprabhu's ear.

Therefore, Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu only told Prakāśānanda Sarasvatī the name of Śrī Īśvara Purī, and He said that the mantra given by Śrī Īśvara Purī had made Him like a madman. In His human-like pastimes, if these mantras had not been given by Śrī Īśvara Purīpāda, Mahāprabhu would not have developed His relationship with Kṛṣṇa and He would not have tasted such prema. Try to know all these truths.

Śrī Guru – Heavier Than God

Very quickly, in a couple of years, Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja preached throughout the world – in the mountains, on ocean islands, in the North, East, South and West. I see his glories everywhere.

Although parama-pujyapada Śrīla Svāmī Mahārāja came to this world as a representative of our guru-paramparā, some people want him to be the only guru. They want that there be only one guru – for the past, present, and future. They want to deny our guru-paramparā. This is very bad; we should not follow this. Rather, it is imperative for us to know what is guru-tattva.

Guru means ‘heavy,’ more so than anyone else in this world – even more than Kṛṣṇa Himself. Sometimes it may happen that Kṛṣṇa comes to that guru and takes his footdust. It is written in Śrī Gīta-govinda by Śrīla Jayadeva Gosvāmī that Kṛṣṇa said to Śrīmatī Rādhikā, “Dehī-pada-pallavam-udharam – please be merciful and place Your lotus feet on My head. Be pleased with Me.” Kṛṣṇa sometimes also says this to the gopīs who serve Śrīmatī Rādhikā more than they serve Him. He may pray to them, “Please place your footdust on My head.” This is guru-tattva.

In other words, all the pure gurus in the disciplic line of Śrīla Rūpa Gosvāmī, in their spiritually perfected forms, are gopī maidservants of Śrīmatī Rādhikā.

The subject of guru-tattva is the essence of all our bhakti literature. This subject is very heavy, and therefore it is essential to hear it from the core of your hearts. We can only worship Kṛṣṇa after we have worshiped guru.

All of us in this world have turned away from Kṛṣṇa. Whether we accept it or not, it is true. Although we are suffering terribly, we do not realize it. Why not? We have drunk such a large quantity of the alcohol of māyā that we have become completely mad; and in this madness we think ourselves very happy. You should know that one day you will have to give up your bodies and all that you have collected in this world. One day you will surely have to be old. Old age is very eagerly waiting to embrace you, and none of you can escape it. A devotee of the caliber of Śrī Nārada Muni can escape this māyā and its presentation of old age, but you are not like Nārada Muni. You will have to suffer if you are not careful.

It is stated in the Vedas:

yasya deve parā bhaktir yathā deve tathā gurau tasyaite kathitā hy arthāḥ prakāśante mahātmanaḥ

Śvetāśvatara Upaniṣad (6.23)

[The conclusive imports of the scriptures are revealed only to that great soul who has the same transcendental devotion (parā-bhakti) for śrī gurudeva that he has for Śrī Bhagavān.]

This instruction has been given since ancient times: “Yasya deve parā bhaktir.” Those who are suffering, and who want to be happy in this world and in the next, especially those living in the present age of quarrel and hypocrisy called Kali-yuga, should serve Kṛṣṇa, the Supreme Lord. And, not less than Him, such persons must serve the bona fide gurudeva. Here in this verse the word parā-bhakti has been used, and knowing its meaning is a must.

anyābbilāṣitā-śūnyam jñāna-karmādy-anāvṛtam ānukūlyena kṛṣṇānuśīlanam bhaktir uttamā

Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu (1.1.11)

[Uttama-bhakti, pure devotional service, is the cultivation of activities which are meant exclusively for the pleasure of Śrī Kṛṣṇa. In other words, it is the uninterrupted flow of service to Śrī Kṛṣṇa, performed through all endeavors of the body, mind, and speech, and through the expression of various spiritual sentiments (bhāvas). It is not covered by jñāna and karma, and it is devoid of all desires other than the aspiration to bring happiness to Śrī Kṛṣṇa.]

Parā-bhakti is the continuous, uninterrupted flow of the activities performed by our body, mind, words, and moods (bhāvas), which are executed only for the benefit of Kṛṣṇa. Such activities are not disturbed or covered by jñāna (mental speculation or knowledge leading to impersonal liberation) and karma (the desire to enjoy the fruits of one's activities), and it is performed under the guidance of guru-tattva. If there is a lack of the above symptoms in a devotee's activities but bhakti is there to some degree, we can still call it bhakti – but it is not parā-bhakti.

The Vedas tell us that parā-bhakti is certainly to be applied to Kṛṣṇa, but first it must be applied to guru. If one has no guru, all his devotional activities will be like zero; only worldly fruits will come. If one thinks, “I am already chanting, remembering, and performing arcanā (regulative worship of the Deity),” but he is not truly initiated by a bona fide guru, the fruit of his activities will only be worldly. Intoxicated by sense enjoyment, such a person may think himself happy, but he will not actually be happy. It is therefore stated in śāstra:

guru-kṛṣṇa-prasāde pāya bhakti-latā-bīja*

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Madhya-līlā 19.151)

[According to their karma, all living entities are wandering throughout the entire universe. Some of them are being elevated to the upper planetary systems, and some are going down into the lower planetary systems. Out of many millions of wandering living entities, one who is very fortunate gets an opportunity to associate with a bona fide spiritual master by the grace of Kṛṣṇa. By the mercy of both Kṛṣṇa and the spiritual master, such a person receives the seed of the creeper of devotional service.]*

What is the meaning of guru-kṛṣṇa-prasāde? It generally means that one can attain the bhakti-latā-bīja – the seed of parā-bhakti – by the combined mercy of guru and Kṛṣṇa. In this connection, however, there is another meaning. Here the meaning is that the bona fide guru is a manifestation of Kṛṣṇa Himself. Kṛṣṇa does not come to us, but the guru may come, as Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja came and traveled everywhere.

The mercy of Kṛṣṇa first manifests as the mercy of guru. From the bona fide guru, who is Kṛṣṇa Himself as His manifestation (āśrayā-vigraha), we can have the seed of bhakti. What is the seed of bhakti? It is kṛṣṇa-sevā-vāsanā, the desire to serve Kṛṣṇa. This desire will come only from gurudeva, the bona fide Vaiṣṇava, and it does not matter whether he is acting as a śikṣā-guru or a dīkṣā-guru. He may act as a śikṣā-guru in the case of a disciple who is initiated by a bona fide guru but cannot avail his śikṣā. The seed of the bhakti creeper comes from this high class of guru.

One can know who Kṛṣṇa is only from gurudeva, and if a guru is not bona fide, Kṛṣṇa cannot be known. Among the sixty-four limbs of bhakti described in Śrī Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, the first four are in relation to śrī gurudeva. The first is guru-pādāśraya, which means acceptance of the shelter of the lotus feet of Gurudeva. That shelter is taken through hearing, and that is harināma initiation in the real sense. Those who take shelter of such a guru can progress quickly in bhakti. After guru-pādāśraya, there is dīkṣā and śikṣā. Dīkṣā means initiation and śikṣā means instruction. The disciple will begin to understand his gurudeva's instructions, and then he will try to follow them. You can take initiation from that guru, but be very careful. If a guru is bona fide and you have some doubt in his character or teachings, Kṛṣṇa will never accept you:

*yasya prasādād bhagavat-prasādo yasyāprasādān na gatiḥ kuto 'pi dhyāyaṁ stuvāṁs tasya yaśas tri-sandhyaṁ
vande guroḥ śrī-caraṇāravindam*

Gurvāṣṭakam (8)

[Only by the mercy of śrī gurudeva can one receive the mercy of Kṛṣṇa; without his grace the living entities cannot make any advancement or be delivered. I meditate three times a day on the glories of śrī gurudeva and recite stava-stuti (prayers) unto his lotus feet.]

ajñāś cā śraddadhānaś ca saṁśayātmā vinaśyati nāyaṁ loko 'sti na paro na sukhaṁ saṁśayātmanaḥ

Bhagavad-gītā (4.40)

[Those who are ignorant, faithless and who have a doubting nature are ruined. A sceptic cannot achieve his well-being in this world or the next, nor can he even achieve happiness.]

Suppose a guru is bona fide, and he is preaching and serving his gurudeva. If one doubts his guru and thinks, “My gurudeva is an ordinary man and he does not know this and that,” or “I know better than him, at least in ordinary matters,” that person falls down from Kṛṣṇa consciousness; no one will be able to save him.

We should be very careful not to associate with such a person. Also, do not associate with anyone who associates with that type of wretched person. Try to behave as you would behave regarding the passing of stool. If we can pass stool easily, we are very happy. We feel great relief if there is a motion. If the stool remains inside the body, we will be restless. We will not be able to do bhakti or anything else. Similarly, you will surely have to give up bad association for your entire life. If you want bhakti, if you want to become Kṛṣṇa conscious, then do not mix with those persons who doubt a bona fide guru, who is serving his gurudeva and who is preaching throughout the world. Parama-pujyapāda Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja had thousands of disciples, but so many of them have completely given up their Kṛṣṇa consciousness due to their doubts.

You may have heard the names of Droṇācārya and Ekalavya. They were both present in this world 5000 years ago, at the time of Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes here. Ekalavya went to Droṇācārya and told him, “I accept you as my guru.” Droṇācārya replied, “I knew you would be coming to me even before you came. I know your heart and pulse; you are against pure bhaktas, and therefore I will not teach you archery.” Ekalavya then said, “I have accepted you as my guru, so I must learn something about archery from you.” Droṇācārya again refused and said, “I cannot give lessons to you. If you learn archery, you will become a burden to the world.”

Still determined, Ekalavya went to the forest and made a clay statue of Droṇācārya. He offered praṇāma to that statue and, repeatedly taking the footdust of that statue, he began to practice archery with great faith. Practicing archery while regularly performing arcanā and offering flowers to Droṇācārya, Ekalavya became a master. Then, one day, when Droṇācārya went to the forest and saw Ekalavya, he became astonished to see how he had learned such a high class of archery. When Ekalavya saw Droṇācārya, he fell at his lotus feet and told him, “What I have learned, I have learned from you.” Droṇācārya then told Ekalavya, “If you have really learned archery from me, then I want some guru-dakṣiṇā.” Ekalavya said, “Whatever you wish, I am prepared to give. I am also prepared to give my life if you want that.” Droṇācārya replied, “I want your right-hand thumb.”

You would not be able to do this if you were asked to do so by your gurudeva, but Ekalavya did it immediately.

Ekalavya was still able to shoot with his remaining four fingers, but what was the result? During the Mahābhārata battle he wanted to fight with Kṛṣṇa and kill Him; therefore, Kṛṣṇa took His Sudarśana cakra and very easily cut off his head.

In this connection, the śraddhā, or faith, of Ekalavya is compared to a clay pot. If one places a clay pot in fire, it will crack. The śraddhā of Ekalavya was like that clay. He was selfish and wanted to ruin the devotees, and because of this ulterior motive, his śraddhā in making and worshiping a statue of Droṇācārya was really not śraddhā at all. Our śraddhā should not be like that of Ekalavya. Rather, it should be like that of Arjuna.

Always remember this and do not associate with Ekalavya. Some ignorant devotees, who are not actually devotees, have named their sons or disciples Ekalavya. It behooves us to be careful and avoid the misconception that he was a good disciple.

Someone may ask, “If a guru is not an uttama-adhikārī, how can he help his disciples? He may speak and behave incorrectly.” The reply to such a doubt is that if a guru is in the final stage of madhyama-adhikārī, if he is madhyama-uttama, if he is very sincere and continually serving his uttama-adhikārī gurudeva, and if he has no worldly desires, he will very soon become an uttama-adhikārī. Mahāprabhu confirmed this truth at the Ratha-yātrā festival while speaking to the inhabitants of Kulīna-grāma. Do not doubt this.

Kṛṣṇa has said in the Bhagavad-gītā (9.23):

ye 'py anya-devatā-bhaktā yajante śraddhayānvitāḥ te 'pi mām eva kaunteya yajanty avidhi-pūrvakam

[O son of Kuntī, those who worship other demigods with faith actually worship Me alone, but in a way that is unauthorized.]

Kṛṣṇa told Arjuna that if a person worships a demigod with strong faith in order to fulfill his worldly desires, thinking, “Surely he will fulfill my desire,” that person is actually worshipping Kṛṣṇa Himself, but in the wrong way. Someone may directly touch his nose and someone else may touch it by making his hand and finger go all the way around his head before it reaches his nose. Similarly, that person’s desires can be fulfilled by Kṛṣṇa alone, whether they are fulfilled by directly asking Him or by getting them fulfilled in a roundabout way by supplicating the demigods. It is actually Kṛṣṇa who gives their benedictions. The devatās are not powerful; they are unable to give any benediction.

In a similar way, a guru may be madhyama-uttama, a madyama-adbhikārī in the final stage; he may not yet be siddha (a perfect, self-realized soul) like Śrī Nārada Muni, Śrīla Śukadeva Gosvāmī, and others. In that case, if he is a sincere devotee and if a disciple follows him with deep faith, who will give the fruit of the disciple’s worship? A madhyama-adbhikārī cannot give it. If one is an uttama-adbhikārī like Nārada Ṛṣi, Śrī Śukadeva Gosvāmī, or Śrīla Rūpa Gosvāmī, he can give it at once, but a madhyama-adbhikārī cannot. The madhyama-adbhikārī guru will tell hari-kathā and engage his disciples in such a way that they will advance in bhakti. What will be the result? If one has very deep faith in that guru, Kṛṣṇa Himself will surely give the fruit, and that fruit will be transcendental. Kṛṣṇa will give that disciple the fruit of the association and shelter of an uttama-adbikārī guru.⁵ To a devotee initiated by a madhyama-adbikārī guru and who really desires to attain the highest goal, Kṛṣṇa gives the association and mercy of an uttama guru who can bless the disciple with that goal. Try to understand this. It is not very easy to understand, but try. Do not have any doubt about this.

Uttama-adbikārī gurus are not easily available; they are very rare in this world. Moreover, even if they are available, most people will not be able to recognize them. For example, Śrī Śukadeva Gosvāmī was naked, and Śrī Vamsidāsa Bābājī put fish bones and other abominable things outside his bhajana-sthālī. You would not be able to know that Śrīla Gaura-kiśora dāsa Bābājī Mahārāja is an uttama mahā-bhāgavata.

If a madhyama-uttama guru who is under the guidance of an uttama-adbikārī guru will tell you, or an uttama-adbikārī playing the role of a devotee in the stage of madhyama-adbikārī will tell you, then you will be able to know. We should be very, very careful about this. Do not have any doubt in that kind of guru.

5 “It should be understood that a madhyama-adbikārī, a second-class devotee, is fully convinced of Kṛṣṇa consciousness but cannot support his convictions with sastric reference. A neophyte (kaniṣṭha-adbikārī) may fall down by associating with non-devotees because he is not firmly convinced and strongly situated. The second-class devotee, even though he cannot support his position with sastric reference, can gradually become a first-class devotee by studying the śāstras and associating with a first-class devotee. However, if the second-class devotee does not advance himself by associating with a first-class devotee, he makes no progress. There is no possibility that a first-class devotee will fall down, even though he may mix with non-devotees to preach. Conviction and faith gradually increase to make one an uttama-adbikārī, a first-class devotee” (Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, Madhya-līlā 22.71, purport by Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja).

If one is madhyama-uttama, he can help so much by his direction. The advanced madhyama-adbhikārī will very soon come to the stage of rati (bhāva), like Bharata Mahārāja and Ambarīṣa Mahārāja. If a person has a doubt in him, do not associate with that person. His association should be given up, just as one gives up stool after passing it.

The Absolute Necessity of Second Initiation

Śrīla Gurudeva: In my classes I have been explaining the meaning of bhakti and I have explained how we can gradually achieve it, beginning from the smallest fraction of bhakti called śraddhā. We discussed many points, among which was the necessity for guru-pādāśraya. In the meantime, a topic has arisen that I want to discuss and clarify. I humbly request that you very carefully and seriously hear this important subject matter. First, Śrīpāda Padmanābha Mahārāja will present the argument, and then I will reply to it.

Śrīpāda Padmanābha Mahārāja: There is a question concerning the relationship between gāyatrī-mantra (dikṣā) and harināma initiation. Some persons have presented quotes from Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Prabhupāda and Śrīla Bhakti Rakṣaka Śrīdhara Mahārāja in order to present the idea, based upon their own understanding of these quotes, that harināma is complete and sufficient for the conditioned soul, and that initiation into the gāyatrī-mantra is not actually required. I will read their quotations and then Śrīla Mahārāja will give the clear understanding. First of all they quote Śrīla Prabhupāda in a room conversation in 1973, in Paris, where he says, “Chanting the Hare Kṛṣṇa mahā-mantra. Then, as he practices, he becomes more purified. Then second initiation – gāyatrī-mantra. The first initiation, according to Jīva Gosvāmī, that is sufficient. Chanting the Hare Kṛṣṇa mantra, that is sufficient. But still, to purify them more, the second initiation, gāyatrī, is given.”

That is one quote. Then they quote Śrīla Bhakti Rakṣaka Śrīdhara Mahārāja in his book Śrī Guru and His Grace. There he says, “We accept the mantra only to help the nāma-bhajana, the worship of the holy name. Otherwise it may not be necessary at all. It has been judged in such a way. The name alone can do everything for a person; it is full and complete. The gāyatrī-mantra helps us to do away with the aparādhās (offenses) and the ābhāsa, or hazy conception. The gāyatrī-mantra comes to help us only so far.”

With these two quotations, some persons have attempted to support their statement that it is not actually completely essential or necessary for conditioned souls to accept the gāyatrī-mantra – dikṣā – because harināma is sufficient. They have also suggested that Śrīla Nārāyaṇa Gosvāmī Mahārāja is saying something contrary to Śrīla Prabhupāda and Śrīla Śrīdhara Mahārāja.

I am also reading the two statements they have quoted from Śrīla Nārāyaṇa Gosvāmī Mahārāja. The first is from his book, Going Beyond Vaikuṅṭha: “Without the gopāla-mantra and the kāma-gāyatrī, will our sādhana be complete with only the nāma-saṅkīrtana? No, because by nāma-saṅkīrtana alone we will not be able to chant śuddha-nāma, the pure name of Kṛṣṇa.”

The second quotation they cite is from a lecture given by Śrīla Gurudeva on the topic of Śrī Bhajana-rābasya: “Everything is there, but don’t think that we can realize all this by chanting kṛṣṇa-nāma alone. We must chant harināma and gayatri-mantra as well. If we want full understanding and realization of what is in the Hare Kṛṣṇa mantra, we must also chant the gayatri-mantras.”

Now we will hear from Śrīla Gurudeva who will kindly give the proper philosophical conclusion of these points, so that everyone can understand clearly the position of gāyatrī-mantra initiation and harināma initiation, and their relationship.

Śrīla Gurudeva: I think you have all understood the argument. Now try very carefully to understand the reply so that you can reconcile all these statements. Some persons have presented the idea that the acceptance of dīkṣā is not essential and has thus indirectly indicated the verse:

dīkṣā-puraścaryā-vidhi apekṣā nā kare jihvā-sparśe ā-caṇḍāla sabāre uddhāre

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Madhya-līlā 15.108)

[One does not have to undergo initiation or execute the activities required before initiation. One simply has to vibrate the holy name with his lips. Thus, even a man in the lowest class (caṇḍāla) can be delivered.]*

The holy name is sufficient. The holy name is very powerful and can fulfill all desires. The name will even give vraja-ṛema.

What, then, is the need of taking initiation? The paper has quoted my statement, along with those of prapujya-carana Bhakti Rakṣaka Śrīdhara Mahārāja and Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja; so, I want to reconcile all the statements. It is true that dikṣā-puraścaryā (initiation and the purificatory activities performed before initiation) is not needed in all circumstances; but we require to know something about the actual meaning of this verse. Śrīla Bhaktisiddhānta Sarasvatī Ṭhākura Prabhupāda wrote a book of rules and regulations in Deity worship called Arcana-dīpikā. There he has explained that harināma is bhāgavata-svarūpa, the actual form of Kṛṣṇa and Rādhā – and for this reason it is stated in Śrī Śikṣāṣṭaka: “Param vijayate śrī-kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtanam.” By chanting and remembering Kṛṣṇa’s names, all kinds of perfection – like vraja-prema and even rādhā-dāsyā (becoming a maidservant of Śrīmatī Rādhikā) – can be attained.

In the first stage, however, when a devotee is uttering the holy name, he is filled with many aparādhās and other anarthās, such as laya (sleep), vikṣepa (distraction), apratīpatti (indifference or disinterest in spiritual topics), and so on. It is guaranteed that such a person cannot utter the pure name; rather, his chanting will be nāma-aparādhā. Chanting the pure name is only possible after dikṣā-saṁskāra.

Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī explains dikṣā in his Bhakti-sandarbhā (283):

divyam jñānam yato dadyāt kuryāt pāpasya saṅkṣayam tasmāt dikṣeti sā proktā deśikais tattva-kovidaiḥ

[Dikṣā is the process by which one can awaken his transcendental knowledge and vanquish all reactions caused by sinful activity. A person expert in the study of the revealed scriptures knows this process as dikṣā.]*

The gāyatrī-mantra gives all kinds of divya-jñāna, transcendental knowledge, including the knowledge of kṛṣṇa-tattva and jīva-tattva, and it also gives our relationship with Kṛṣṇa. Nāma alone will not give this relation to the person filled with anarthas. All of our ācāryas, from top to bottom, have stated that in order to purify us from our sinful reactions and to clear offenses (anartha-nivṛtti) so that we can develop the ability to chant the pure name, we must accept dikṣā-vidhāna (the process of initiation). Dī-kṣā. Dī means divya-jñāna, or realized knowledge of our relationship with Kṛṣṇa. Kṣā is the washing away of all sins, aparādhās, and other impurities. For this, dikṣā-vidhāna is essential. Without dikṣā-saṁskāra, one's relationship with Kṛṣṇa (sambandha-jñāna) cannot manifest and one cannot chant śuddha-nāma. It is essential to accept dikṣā.

Śrīla Sanātana Gosvāmī has written in Śrī Hari-bhakti-vilāsa:

yathā kāñcanatām yāt kāṁsyaṁ rasa-vidhānataḥ tathā dikṣā-vidhānena dvi-jatvaṁ jāyate nṛṇām

[Just as bell metal (a mixture of copper and tin) is turned to gold by a particular Vedic alchemical process, a person can attain the state of dvi-ja (second birth) by the process of vaiṣṇava-dikṣā.]

Bell metal turns into gold by the help of the element mercury. Similarly, by this element, the process of dikṣā, our chanting of the holy name will become pure; otherwise it is not possible.

If there is no necessity to accept dikṣā-mantra, why did Śrīla Bhaktisiddhānta Sarasvatī Ṭhākura Prabhupāda take second initiation from Śrīla Gaura-kīśora dāsa Bābājī Mahārāja, and why did he give dikṣā initiation to all of his disciples? Parama-pūjyapāda Śrīla Śrīdhara Gosvāmī Mahārāja also took dikṣā from him. If there is no necessity, why did Śrīla Prabhupāda Bhaktisiddhānta Sarasvatī Ṭhākura give dikṣā initiation, and why did his disciples accept it?

Not only that, Brahmā received kāma-gāyatrī and gopāla-mantra from Kṛṣṇa Himself. Brahmā then gave the dikṣā-mantra to Śrī Nārada Ṛṣi, and Nārada gave it to so many disciples. Nārada not only gave harināma to Dhruva Mahārāja. He gave him dikṣā by the mantra: om namo bhagavate vāsudevāya. Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu took initiation from Śrī Īśvara Purīpāda, who first gave Him harināma. Then, to purify that chanting of nāma, he gave Him gopāla-mantra. Gopāla-mantra is transcendental and eternal, and it gives a relationship with Kṛṣṇa as Gopījanavallabha. We should consider all this evidence.

All the ācāryas in our guru-paramparā have accepted dikṣā mantras. Can those who say that harināma is sufficient for conditioned souls name any ācārya in our guru-paramparā who has not taken dikṣā initiation? Śrīla Gaura-kīśora dāsa Bābājī Mahārāja, Śrīla Bhaktivinoda Ṭhākura, Śrīla Viśvanātha Cakravartī Ṭhākura, and the Six Gosvāmīs took second initiation. Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja also took it. Why did they take dīkṣā initiation if it is not essential? You should know the gravity of this truth. Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu, Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu, Śrī Advaita Ācārya, Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita, Śrī Īsvara Purī, and Śrī Mādhavendra Purī have all taken dīkṣā. Why, then, should we not take it? Why is it not essential? If it is not essential, then why did Śrī Sanātana Gosvāmī write about it in his Śrī Hari-bhakti-vilāsa? Why did Śrī Gopāla Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī also write about it? Did he say it was useless? Those who say that dīkṣā is not essential will not be able to answer these questions in hundreds and millions of years.

Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu took initiation. He is the Lord of lords – Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa combined – and yet He went to Gayā and took initiation. He vividly explained this fact in a gathering of sannyāsīs in Kāśī, when those sannyāsīs asked Him, “O, You are a very young and qualified sannyāsī. Why do You not hear Vedānta? Why do you engage in singing, dancing, and rolling on the ground? A sannyāsī should not dance and do all these things.”

Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu replied by telling them of the order of His guru, Śrī Īsvara Purīpāda. Mahāprabhu said, “Guru mora mūrkhba dekhi. My Guru Mahārāja told me that because I am foolish and unintelligent, I am not qualified to study Vedānta. He said that, instead, I should always chant Hare Kṛṣṇa, and I should remember this verse: barer nāma barer nāma barer nāmaiva kevalam, kalau nāsty eva nāsty eva nāsty eva gatir anyathā.⁶”

6 “In this age of quarrel and hypocrisy, the only means of deliverance is chanting the holy name of the Lord. There is no other way. There is no other way. There is no other way” (Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, Ādi-līlā 17.21).

Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu not only took barināma from His gurudeva, He also took second initiation through the gopāla-mantra. In our paramparā, in order to purify one's chanting and to give the chanter a relationship with Kṛṣṇa, who has kindly taken the form of His holy name, the gopāla-mantra is given along with barināma. Before the time of Mahāprabhu, only gopāla-mantra was given. Later, after He manifested His pastimes, Śrīla Dhyānacandra Gosvāmī and Śrīla Gopāla-guru Gosvāmī came to this world and gave the regulations we now follow. They gave brahma-gāyatrī, guru-mantra, guru-gāyatrī, gaura-mantra, gaura-gāyatrī, kṛṣṇa-mantra (gopāla-mantra), and finally kāma-gāyatrī. This is the process followed in our sampradāya as begun by Śrīla Gopāla-guru Gosvāmī, who was a disciple of Vakreśvara Paṇḍita, who was a personal associate of Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu.

Caitanya Mahāprabhu quoted His gurudeva saying:

'kṛṣṇa-mantra' jaṇa sadā—ei mantra-sāra.

kṛṣṇa-mantra haite habe saṁsāra-mocana

kṛṣṇa-nāma haite pābe kṛṣṇera caraṇa

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 7.72-73)

[You must always chant the holy name of Kṛṣṇa. This is the essence of all mantras, or Vedic hymns. One can obtain freedom from material existence simply by chanting the kṛṣṇa-mantra. Indeed, by chanting kṛṣṇa-nāma one obtains Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet.]

The offenseless chanting of the holy name does not depend on the initiation process. But that name chanted must be the pure name – and how will it become so? It can only be revealed as pure through the dikṣā process. It is not that the holy name is not pure, but if a person is not a pure devotee, it is not possible for him to chant the pure name. He can only chant syllables that sound like the name. He can only chant offenses to the name (nāma-aṣarādhā) or a semblance of the name (nāma-ābhāsa).

Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu chanted the pure name. Therefore, He was able to tell His gurudeva:

kibā mantra dilā, gosāñi, kibā tāra bala japite japite mantra karila pāgala

Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Ādi-līlā 7.81)

[My dear lord, what kind of mantra have you given Me? I have become mad simply by chanting this mahā-mantra!]*

Caitanya Mahāprabhu told the sannyāsīs, “You ask why I dance and sing and roll on the ground. Here is the reason – when My gurudeva initiated Me, he gave Me both the harināma and gopāla-mantra. Then He said, ‘Japite japite mantra.’ If He had only received harināma, the mahā-mantra, Mahāprabhu would not have said the word ‘mantra.’ Mantra especially refers to gopāla-mantra and kāma-gāyatrī. He first received harināma and then gopāla-mantra. “Japite japite mantra karila pāgala – and this made Me like a madman.” Kṛṣṇa-nāma and mantra, meaning the mahā-mantra and gopāla-mantra. For those who always remember and meditate on the gopāla-mantra and kāma-gāyatrī, rati (bhāva-bhakti) at once enter their hearts by the power of the mantras.

It is stated in Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta (Antya-līlā 4.192):

dīkṣā-kāle bhakta kare ātma-samarpaṇa sei-kāle kṛṣṇa tāre kare ātma-sama

[When the bhakta fully dedicates himself at the time of receiving dīkṣā, Śrī Kṛṣṇa makes him as spiritual as Himself.]

First initiation is called harināma initiation, and the second initiation is called dīkṣā. Ātma-samarpaṇa – at the time of dīkṣā, the disciple totally surrenders unto the feet of his gurudeva. Sei-kāle – at that time Kṛṣṇa gives the shelter of His lotus feet, and He makes that disciple ātma-sama, very near and dear to Him.

According to the Vaiṣṇava regulative principles, one must be initiated as a brāhmaṇa. As quoted in Śrī Hari-bhakti-vilāsa (2.6) from the Viṣṇu-yāmala, Lord Śaṅkara said to his wife Pārvatī:

adīkṣitasya vāmoru kṛtaṁ sarvaṁ nirarthakam
paśu-yonim avāpnoti dīkṣā-virabito janah

[O Vamaru, O beautiful Pārvatī, regarding those who have not taken dīkṣā, all their devotional activities, such as sādhana, bhajana, and pūjā, have all been done in vain. They are all useless. Such persons who are not properly initiated must again enter the many animal species.]

It is stated in Padyāvalī, a book compiled by Śrīla Rūpa Gosvāmī, that harināma can give everything, including kṛṣṇa-prema, simply by touching the tongue:

ākṛṣṭiḥ kṛta-cetasām sumanasām uccāṭanaṁ cāmhasām ācaṇḍālam amūka-loka-sulabho vaśyaś ca mukti-śriyaḥ no dikṣām na ca sat-kriyām na ca puraścaryām manāg īkṣate mantra 'yam rasanā-sprg eva phalati śrī-kṛṣṇa-nāmātmakaḥ Payāvalī (29)

[The holy name of Lord Kṛṣṇa is an attractive feature for many saintly, liberal people. It is the annihilator of all sinful reactions and is so powerful that, save for the dumb who cannot chant it, it is readily available to everyone, including the lowest type of man, the caṇḍāla. The holy name of Kṛṣṇa is the controller of the opulence of liberation, and it is identical with Kṛṣṇa. When a person simply chants the holy name with his tongue, immediate effects are produced. Chanting the holy name does not depend on initiation, pious activities, or the puraścaryā, regulative principles generally observed before initiation. The holy name does not wait for any of these activities. It is self-sufficient.]*

But can this occur if one's chanting is not pure? This is the question that has been raised. Can this occur without dikṣā? In the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa (17.4-5, 7) it is stated:

vinā yena na siddhaḥ syān mantra varṣa-śatair api kṛtena yena labhate sādḥako vāñchitam phalam puraścaraṇa-sampanno mantra hi phala-dhāyakaḥ ataḥ puraṣkriyām kuryāt mantra-vit siddhi-kaṅkṣayā puraṣkriyā hi mantrāṇām pradhānaṁ vīryam ucyate vīrya-hīno yathā dehī sarva-karmasu na kṣamaḥ puraścaraṇa-hīno hi tathā mantraḥ prakīrtitaḥ

[Without performing the puraścaryā activities, one cannot become perfect even by chanting this mantra for hundreds of years. However, one who has undergone the puraścaryā-vidhi process can attain success very easily. If one wishes to perfect his initiation, he must first undergo the puraścaryā activities. The puraścaryā process is the life-force by which one is successful in chanting the mantra. Without the life-force, one cannot do anything; similarly, without the life-force of puraścaryā-vidhi, no mantra can be perfected.]*

Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī has quoted a verse in order to further dispel any misunderstanding in this regard. In his Bhakti-sandarbha (283–84) he describes the importance of Deity worship and dikṣā initiation as follows:

yadyapi śrī-bhāgavata-mate pañcarātrādi-vat arcana-mārgasya āvaśyakatvaṁ nāsti, tad vināpi śaraṇāpatty-ādīnāṁ ekatareṇāpi puruṣārtha-siddher abhīhitatvāt, tathāpi śrī-nāradādi-vartmānūsaradbhiḥ śrī-bhagavatā saba sambandha-viśeṣaṁ dikṣā-vidhānena śrī-guru-carāṇa-sampāditāṁ cikīrṣadbhiḥ kṛtāyāṁ dikṣāyāṁ arcanam avāśyaṁ kriyetaiva

[It is Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam's opinion that the process of Deity worship is not actually necessary, just as the specific prescriptions of the Pañcarātra and other scriptures do not have to be followed. The Bhāgavatam enjoins that even without practicing Deity worship, one can achieve the complete success of human life by any of the other devotional processes, such as simply offering oneself at the Lord's feet for protection.]*

yadyapi svarūpato nāsti, tathāpi prāyaḥ svabhāvato debādi-sambandhena kadarya-śilānām vikṣipta-cittānām janānām tat-tat-samkocī-karaṇāya śrīmad-ṛṣi-prabhṛtibhir atrārcana-mārge kvacit kvacit kācit kācin maryādā sthāpitāsti.

[Nonetheless, Vaiṣṇavas, following the path of Śrī Nārada and his successors, endeavor to establish a personal relationship with the Lord by receiving the grace of a bona fide spiritual master through initiation, and in this tradition, the devotees are obliged at the time of initiation to begin engaging in Deity worship. Although Deity worship is not essential, the material conditioning of most candidates for devotional service requires that they engage in this activity. When we consider their bodily and mental conditions, we find that the character of such candidates is impure and their minds are agitated. Therefore, to rectify this material conditioning, the great sage Nārada and others have at different times recommended various kinds of regulations for Deity worship.]*

Simply by the tongue touching the kṛṣṇa-nāma, that holy name gives all kinds of perfection, including kṛṣṇa-dāsyā and rādhā-dāsyā. But one should note Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī's very clear commentary to this verse, and take it to heart for continual remembrance. In his Bhakti-sandarbhā (283), he has written:

dvijānām anupetānām svakarmādhyayanādiṣu yathādbikāro nāstīha syāc copanayanād anu tathātrādīkṣitānām tu mantra-devārcanādiṣu nādbikāro 'sty ataḥ kuryād ātmānam śiva-saṁstutam

[Even though born in a brāhmaṇa family, one cannot engage in Vedic rituals without being initiated and having a sacred thread. Although born in a brāhmaṇa family, one becomes a brāhmaṇa only after initiation and the sacred thread ceremony. Unless one is initiated as a brāhmaṇa, one cannot worship the holy name properly.⁷]*

It is true that simply by touching the tongue, kṛṣṇa-nāma can give everything. However, it is not possible for the material tongue, the tongue of a conditioned soul, to touch the transcendental holy name:

*ataḥ śrī-kṛṣṇa-nāmādi
na bhaved grāhyam indriyaiḥ sevonmukhe hi jihvādau svayam eva sphuraty adaḥ*

Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu (1.2.234)

[Initially the name, form, qualities, and pastimes of Śrī Kṛṣṇa can not be perceived by the materially conditioned senses of the conditioned jīva. However if one who has a favourable mood towards Śrī Kṛṣṇa renders devotional service through those same senses beginning with the tongue, Śrī Kṛṣṇa will most certainly reveal Himself in His Personal form.]

7 The following statement of Śrīla Bhaktivedānta Svāmī Mahārāja in Paris, 1973, as quoted from the paper mentioned by Śrīpāda Padmanābha Mahārāja at the beginning of this chapter, refers to the above-mentioned verse of Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī: “Chanting the Hare-Kṛṣṇa mahā-mantra. Then, as he practices, he becomes more purified. Then second initiation – gāyatrī-mantra. The first initiation, according to Jīva Gosvāmī, that is sufficient. Chanting the Hare Kṛṣṇa mantra, that is sufficient. But still, to purify them more, the second initiation, gāyatrī, is given.”

Śrī Nārada Muni and other previous ācāryas, like Brahmā, Sanaka, Sanandana, Sanātana, and Sanat-kumāra, have all taken dīkṣā. One receives dīkṣā, and then performs sādhana-bhajana and worships his iṣṭadeva (personal Deity), Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa. Śrīla Jīva Gosvāmī has written that without dīkṣā there will be no relationship with Kṛṣṇa – neither dāsyā, sakhya, vātsalya, or mādhurya. It will never be possible without dīkṣā. In our sampradāya, sambandh-ajñāna comes only by uttering “gopijana-vallabhāya” in the gopāla-mantra.

Śrīla Viśvanātha Cakravartī Ṭhākura has written an explanation of this same verse. Therein he vividly explains that one may have given up all kinds of sādhana and pious activities, and may be chanting and remembering the holy names of Bhagavān – he may have determined that his iṣṭadeva is Kṛṣṇa – still, if he has not taken initiation from a Vaiṣṇava guru, thinking that it is not essential, he can never achieve Kṛṣṇa. The only good result he achieves is that he will not go to hell. He cannot achieve the lotus feet of Kṛṣṇa, in any life, until he is properly initiated. In his future life, by the fruit of his previous activities of bhajana, he will take birth in a very religious family and there he will have sādhū-saṅga, guru-pādāśraya, and then dīkṣā. At that time, he will make solid advancement in bhakti. This is the only way.

Also, Śrīla Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī has written in the first verse of his Manaḥ-śikṣā:

gurau goṣṭhe goṣṭālayiṣu sujane bhūsurā-gaṇe sva-mantre śrī-nāmnī vraja-nava-yuva-dvandva-śaraṇe sadā dambhaṁ bitvā kuru ratim apūrvām atitarām aye svāntar bhrātaś caṭubhir abhiyāce dhr̥ta-padaḥ

[O my dear brother; my foolish mind! Taking hold of your feet, I humbly pray to you with sweet words. Please give up all pride and quickly develop sublime and incessant rati for śrī gurudeva, Śrī Vraja-dhāma, the residents of Vraja, the Vaiṣṇavas, the brāhmaṇas, my dīkṣā-mantras, the holy names of the Supreme Lord, and the shelter of Śrī Śrī Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa, the eternally youthful divine couple of Vraja.]

If dīkṣā initiation is not necessary, why has he uttered the word ‘mantra’? Why has he not said only ‘śrī nāmni’? What is sva-mantra? There is some difference between mantra and harināma, and that is why he has told his mind: “Please give up your false pride and try to develop sublime and unprecedented attachment for both. Take shelter of both nāma and mantra, and then your life will be successful.” So there are two things, not one. His gurudeva gave him mantra – and that is dīkṣā.

Now, kindly reconcile all these points.
